Website : How to use XSLT to transform excel xml to html I was hoping to be able to use some basic XSLT to transform an XML file to an HTML file. I have the following XML file. TEST TEST TEST The "book" and "work" classes are container classes. I would like to target just these two container classes and create a new Div element at the beginning of the div and an extra span element in each container to identify it as a container. I would like to continue this so that in the final xml it would look something like this: TEST TEST TEST I don't think I am using XSLT correctly, but I think it might look something like this?

What's New In?

Bluto is a multi-platform web browser created as a private project. Bluto was created by Rafael Sabatini. After 2 years of hard work and plenty of debugging, he released Bluto to the public on the Web -

March 2001. Bluto is based on Mozilla code. Bluto is not supported by any company. Bluto is distributed as freeware, free software and open source software under the GNU General Public License v2.0. Bluto is distributed as PortableApps.com Encrypted File Format (.po3) package (.poe and.poe2), which are available directly on the web. (as an html download which can be read with ordinary web browsers.) Bluto is not supported by any company or business. What is the difference between PortableApps.com and PortableApps.com Encrypted

File Format (.po3)
PortableApps.com Encrypted
File Format (.po3) is just a web file that is free and can be read directly by your web browser.
Bluto PortableApps.com
Encrypted File Format (.po3) package contains a PortableApps.com Encrypted
File Format (.po3) package (.poe and.poe2) file. When Bluto PortableApps.com
package installed and executed on your computer, it creates a new folder on the desktop. A folder called PortableApps.com Encrypted File Format (.po3) package can also be found on the desktop (during installation). You can double-click the folder to view the .poe and .poe2 files. What is Bluto (formelry Bluto XT Light)? Bluto (formelry Bluto XT Light) is a web browser. Bluto is based on the Mozilla code.
